

The Deutschland- stipendium Scholarship at the University of Bonn

The Deutschlandstipendium scholarship provides long-term support to particularly talented and responsible students. At the same time, the German government is using this program to help establish a scholarship culture.

Each scholarship recipient gets €300 a month (€3,600 a year). The Deutschlandstipendium scholarship is awarded irrespective of income or BAföG criteria. However, recipients are not permitted to accept a scholarship from another funding institution at the same time.

The Deutschlandstipendium scholarship is aimed at:

- › Students on a degree program (bachelor's degree, master's degree, state examination, Church degree, magister's degree) at the University of Bonn
- › All high-school graduates and prospective students looking to begin a degree at the University of Bonn in the near future

Requirements for receiving a Deutschlandstipendium scholarship:

- › Very good school or study achievements
- › Social engagement outside school or university

Information on applications for current and prospective students

Applications for the upcoming winter semester can be submitted in spring. The funding period for the Deutschlandstipendium scholarship begins on October 1.

Details of the exact application period for the Deutschlandstipendium scholarship will be published on www.uni-bonn.de/deutschlandstipendium in January. You will need to apply online via an application server. This requires a one-time registration. You will then be able to complete the application form and upload all of the necessary documents to the application server.

Postal applications will not be accepted.

You will find out in mid-September whether or not your application for a Deutschlandstipendium scholarship has been successful.

You will find out in mid-September whether or not your application for a Deutschlandstipendium scholarship has been successful.

High-school graduates whose Abitur certificate is not yet available at the end of the application phase have the option of submitting only this certificate at a later date. All other documents must be submitted by the deadline.

The link to the application server and all further information and requirements that must be met to obtain funding can be found in the funding guidelines for awarding scholarships as part of the Deutschlandstipendium program.

This and all further information will be available from January onward on our website:
